

Water For Cemetery Is B&PW Campaign

The Hondo Business and Professional Womens Club, which for years has carried through on major projects to help make our community a better place to live, is now undertaking the biggest project it has ever attempted—that of piping water out to the cemetery.

The club, now headed by Miss Mary Ruth Cameron, has discussed the project with Mayor O. A. Fly, John Horger, and Water Commissioner Homer Wilson, all of whom think it a worthwhile cause. They have discovered that the cost of getting water to a central location in the cemetery will be more than $1500.

All funds that the organization raises this year, over and above their necessary operating expenses of rent, supplies, etc., will go toward this project.

Financial chairman of the club is Mrs. Betty Holloway, and her committee, with the approval of the club as a whole, has decided that part of their money will be raised by selling two articles. One is an indoor clothesline made of rubber which will stretch as long as eight feet and requires no clothespins to hang garments. These are now on sale in gift boxes from B&PW members and in some local stores. The other article is an ash tray with a picture of Hondo's famous "God's Country" sign pictured on it. The ash trays have not arrived as yet but will also be on sale soon in local stores, and the club hopes it will sell well as the Hondo souvenir.

The club invites other local organizations to get behind this drive and make it a community project as the creation of a high school band was. Also, donations from individuals will be welcomed. President Cameron states that of course funds will be returned to donors in event the project falls through, but that the club is not planning to fail at this subject. It may take two years, perhaps even three to see this through to completion; however, the organization feels that it will succeed with adequate cooperation from others.

Miss Thelma Lynch is treasurer of the club and will accept donations for the cause. Funds will be kept in a separate bank account from the regular operating fund of the organization.

Alfred Schweers Gets Two Years

BEEF WEEK SET FOR AUGUST 17

Next week, starting August 17, is to be officially observed in Medina county as "Eat Beef Week."

The action was taken by the livestock committee of the Medina County Farm Bureau at their meeting in Hondo, August 10.

The official minutes: "A motion was made by James Ambersson and seconded by A. C. Gilliam to support the program started in other counties to designate the week of August 17th as "Eat Beef Week."

"It was asked that newspapers and grocery stores support the program to increase beef consumption in Medina County. Motion carried."

F. C. Meyer, Chairman
Livestock Committee
Medina County Farm Bureau.

LOCAL POLIO CHAPTER RECEIVES $2600

To help pay for the care of local polio patients, a check for $2600 has been received by the Medina County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, it was announced today by C. F. Schweers, Chapter Chairman.

He disclosed that this county is one of many throughout the nation which have exhausted their March of Dimes funds during the current polio season and have asked for and received national aid. He said Chapter funds were committed for the payment of overdue hospital bills incurred last year, before a single case was reported for this year.

The chairman explained that March of Dimes funds are divided evenly between the County Chapter and National Headquarters of the National Foundation. Locally-retained funds are devoted to patient care. Those allocated to National Headquarters support vast scientific research and professional education programs, and provide assistance to Chapters whose funds have become exhausted by aid to patients during high incidence of the disease.

At present Medina County is providing funds for the case in whole or in part, of one patient afflicted this year, in addition to seven patients stricken in previous years.

Fire Completely Destroys Garage

NATALIA—Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the garage building at the Robert Baker farm home two miles west of Natalia on the Pearson road at 9:30 A. M. Sunday.

Around 200 bales of hegarai hay stored in the building was a complete loss. Damage has been estimated at $700.

It is thought that perhaps a cigarette was thrown into the hay from the road by some passerby and started the fire.

The Devine Fire Department responded to the call and did a good job saving the dwelling which was very near by. However, neighbors had gathered and helped to remove all of the furniture from the house just to be on the safe side.

A piece of hogwire was cut from a nearby fence and used to place around the burning hay and pull it away from the house, which probably helped to control the fire.

JIM DUDERSTADT HIRED BY MONTANA COLLEGE

Jim Duderstadt will teach speech and radio in Montana State College at Bozeman next year, the subjects which he has specialized in for several years.

Last year he taught in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades at Hondo elementary school, and was re-elected. He submitted his resignation last week. Supt. J. G. Barry said Tuesday that no successor had been chosen, although ney did have applications on file.

Louis Britsch At Ninety Tells Of Indians On Hondo

Ninety years is a long time, but Hondo has one citizen who first saw the light of day before the Civil War was over, and can still tell you about seeing an Indian who made the fatal mistake of trying to steal a horse.

Louis Britsch celebrated his ninetieth birthday on August 12, starting his long career in 1863. He was the third of seven children born to Gottlieb and Katrina Britsch in the Vandenberg community. His father came from the old country at the age of eleven. One sister, Miss Rosina, and one brother, Charles, both younger than Louis, are also still living.

Louis attended schools in Vandenberg and New Fountain, having to walk about six miles to get there. His childhood days were spent in working and helping about the place, riding and hunting with his father. Once when he and one of his brothers, Joe, and another man were out in the hills riding after their cattle, Indians chased them for six miles. In those days fences were scarce, and they rode for days hunting their cattle. Another time when he was just four, his grandmother took him to see a dead Indian, X. Vance, Charley Decker and Joe Decker were over on the Hondo in a hay camp, and this Indian came in just before daylight to steal the horses. The men were aroused and killed him. Louis said, with a big laugh, "I well remember, I had a little dress on."

On August 8, 1891, he was married to Christina Oefinger of Quibi. He smiled and said that he had wanted to get married on his birthday, but since it was the custom in and around Quibi at that time to get married on Saturday, and have a big celebration afterward, they were married four days ahead of his birthday. The young couple had built their own home before they were wed. Four children came to bless them, Alma, George, Earnest and Ella. George was killed in France during World War I, and the other three are living in Hondo now. They lived in the Vandenberg community and sent their children to school there, while Mr. Britsch continued his farming and ranching activity.

Mrs. Britsch died November 14, 1937. He stayed at the old homestead for a number of years, and finally moved to town, where he is now living with his daughter, Mrs. Alma Goff at 1401 29th Street.

Your reporter visited with Grandpa Britsch for a long time, and he talked between puffs on his pipe. One of the things he mentioned was the time when rain was plentiful in these parts, and the Hondo creek was running, with good swimming at the slab.

He has four grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. One of the latter, Jimmie Morley, is spending the week here. He celebrated his birthday this year by visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ella Burgin, and her family who live on the old homestead.

42 Cars Of Feed Arrived In County

42 cars of drought relief emergency feed have been received in Medina County up to Wednesday, August 12, according to Arthur Stratmann, office manager for the Production and Marketing Administration in Hondo.

Cottonseed meal is the only item that has been in short supply so far, said Stratmann.

At the Chapman Grain warehouse, where feed is being loaded in Hondo for the program, farmers and ranchers are keeping the place busy from morn till night. According to an announcement elsewhere in this week's paper, hours have been set for loading from 8:30 to 12 noon, and 1 to 4:30 P. M. This schedule allows for completing paper work, and gives employees a chance to eat dinner.

He had been living in San Antonio at the home of his daughter, Mrs. V. C. Brown. He leaves another daughter, Mrs. Francis Bowen of San Antonio, and another son, Milton DuBose of Co-tulla. There are 13 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery at Devine.

Last Rites Held Today For W. L. DuBose Of Devine

DEVINE—Funeral services will be held at 10 A. M. Friday in the First Baptist Church at Devine for W. L. DuBose, 84, who died Wednesday in San Antonio.

Editor of the Devine News for 54 years, he was widely known throughout Medina County. In recent years he had retired from active management, and had turned over the operation of his newspaper to C. P. DuBose, a son.

Guilty Plea In Federal Hearing

Alfred H. Schweers, 59-year-old former Hondo banker, Wednesday started a 2-year federal penitentiary sentence for embezzlement.

Schweers, who had been assistant vice president of the Hondo National Bank, pleaded guilty of taking about $4000 in 18 months. He had worked for the bank more than 25 years.

$22,000 LOSS

U. S. Attorney Brad Miller told District Judge R. Ewing Thomason, El Paso, the bank showed losses of $22,072.80. None of the money Schweers admits taking has been returned.

"He can't make restitution—he's penniless. What did he do with the money he took? He spent it living beyond his means."

A S&D CASE

Judge Thomason said sternly: "Then there are no mitigating factors but his health and good reputation. These cases sadden me, but the law's purpose is not only to punish the guilty but to protect society."

Schweers drew two years on each of four counts, but they will run concurrently. Judge Thomason said he will be eligible for parole after eight months. From Wednesday SA Light.

According to the San Antonio Express, Schweers drew checks on the Medina County Available School Fund account in larger amounts than paid vouchers to account for most of the shortages, law enforcement officials said.

Bank officials stated recently in Hondo that all losses were covered by bond.

Seco Valley Road Continuation Progressing

The continuation of the Seco Valley road to connect with the farm-to-market road in Uvalde County between Sabinal and Utopia is progressing so that it might be under contract before the end of the year, according to County Judge Arthur Rothe.

The road runs approximately 6 miles in Medina County and 4 miles in Uvalde County and connects Highway 90; north through the Woodard and Reilly ranches into the Utopia Sabinal road. This will give the people of Utopia a more direct route to Hondo.

Judge Rothe states that the right of way is now being secured in Medina County.

INTEREST HIGH IN D'HANIS BOND ELECTION

D'HANIS—Keen interest in the D'Hanis bond election to be held August 15 was indicated by the large number of voters present at the public meeting held on August 8 in the school auditorium. The proposed bonds are to be issued for the purpose of financing a waterworks system for D'Hanis. The present drought with its attendant dangers of disease and widespread fire as well as expenses of hauling water, no doubt contributed to the interest shown.

J. B. Nester, secretary of the board of directors of the Water Control District, presided at the meeting. County Judge A. H. Rothe introduced the first speaker, Engineer Frank Drought of San Antonio, who explained point by point a written summary of the proposed project, copies of which had been passed to the assembly. This included facts about the water to be supplied, which will be abundant, palatable, of excellent quality for all uses, safe, and always available. Water and tax rates, amount of water available, and the project cost estimate were also included in the summary. Drought explained that everything in the outline was necessarily still tentative and approximate. He gave specific estimates on the average assessment, which he supposes to be $4,000, and offered the use of a map for inspection after the meeting.

TRAVEL US 90 BOOSTERS MEET AT SUL ROSS

President Bryan Wildenthal of Sul Ross State College welcomed more than 25 members of the Travel US 90 Association meet-ing Sunday afternoon, August 9, in the Fine Arts auditorium at Alpine, Texas.

A highway map illustrates this latest pub-lication of the Travel US 90 As-sociation. Plans were made to print attractive baggage stickers advertising US 90.

HONDO LITTLE LEAGUE RESULTS

Wednesday night, August 8th, the Giants met the Cardinals in a one-sided battle that left the Giants on top 15-0. Mark Finger after hitting 7 home runs in a row went hitless. Augie Finger, our new pitching find, allowed only 1 hit and didn't walk a player in holding the Cards scoreless.

The Yanks played the Braves in the other game of the evening and were beaten 6-3. The Yanks showed lots of improvement in what could be called their best game of the year. John Wolff pitched good game for the Yanks, and starred at the plate with a double. Dave Finger was the winning pitcher.

Friday, August 7, the Yank went down to defeat, 11-6, at the hands of the Cardinals who were led by the hitting and pitching of Butch Smith. Smith allowed only two hits and scored 3 runs for the winning team. Highsmith of the Yanks, the leading hitter, for them, accounted for 2 of the 6 runs by getting his first home run of the year.

The nightcap was a hard fought battle between the Giants and the Braves. The Braves were defeated by a score of 6-3. This was their first loss since the second game of the season. The Braves were stopped cold by the 3-hit pitching of A. Finger. Dave Finger of the Braves had trouble finding the plate and walked 6 men but was backed by a good infield and only one of the walked men scored. The Giants accounted ed for 4 of their runs in the 3rd inning taking advantage of a walk and error, and a hit and then a home run by Ligon, their tall first baseman.

The Giants and the Cards played to a 6-6 tie in an early game of the season and this will be played off Wednesday, August 12, at Hondo Air Base. The outcome of this game will decide the league standing. If the Giants win they will be tied for first with the Braves and this game will be played Friday, August 14.

Medina Valley Soil Conservation District News

The continued drought in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District has not stopped the conservation practices being applied to the farms and ranches. This has been a very busy time for the people. Daily, new tanks are being built and old ones enlarged. The farmers and ranchers realize the need for larger tanks and more of them now. Hauling water for livestock is expensive and takes too much time. This can be overcome in most cases by the construction of farm ponds.

The Glascock ranch, located 4 miles northwest of D'Hanis on the old Uvalde Highway, has had contour lines run this week on 280 acres of cultivated land. The operator of the ranch stated that there was enough rain to have produced a fair crop if the water could have been held on the land. The contour row farming will slow down the runoff of water during rains and allow more to be taken up by the soil. With the rainfall as low as it is, it's time all farmers carry out practices to improve the water-holding capacity of their soils.

Much plowing has been done in the last two weeks. Farmers are turning under crop residue on their cultivated land. This is very important to the soils. In addition to adding organic matter, this gives the soil the ability to take in and hold moisture. This year has taught us how really important this is to us, if we are to continue as farmers and ranchers producing for ourselves and this great nation.

It is interesting to know that with our low rainfall this year we still have some rangeland in good condition. This rangeland has been kept in this condition by deferring and proper stocking of the ranch. It was also noted that our better grasses had made progress in their comeback. Most of these grasses had produced seed this year. Many of you are probably wondering how this range did so well, even though it was properly stocked. Fortunately the range had a litter or mulch on the soil, which helped in holding runoff water, thus enabling the soil to take in more of the moisture than the rangeland which had a thin cover. After the soil had taken up the moisture, this mulch of old grass helped to hold the moisture there by keeping the hot sun from coming in direct contact with the soil. If we are to depend on our rangeland and farmland for our livelihood in the future, it is high time we start treating the soil in a way to make it more productive each year. Farming and ranching is our business, just as banking and industry is other people's business. Let us follow in their footsteps each year in making our business greater.

Rome was not built in a day, but it was built; so, let us start this job of building our farms and ranches by applying conservation practices that will, one of these days, make us proud to point to a range or farmland, and say "That is mine." Let us not make the mistake of taking everything from the soil and leaving nothing. This was practiced during the days when there was more virgin soil ahead. That is not the story any more; therefore, we must be content with what we have, and give our soils the treatment they so richly deserve.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN—Business has been booming in Texas the past six months, despite the farmer's plight. A report from the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas reveals that the first six months of 1953 were "the best in Texas' business history."

Heaviest activity was in the industrial growth of the state.

Water Supply
Texas potentially has an ample water supply. But at present a b o u t 85 per cent of the flow of Texas' rivers goes into the Gulf of Mexico.

That circumstance was reported to the Senate by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, who based his remarks on a study made by the Austin office of the U. S. Reclamation Bureau.

Johnson recommended that the federal government and the state work together for the conservation and use of this water so as to provide food, clothing, and industrial opportunities to an ever-expanding west.

Legislative Council Meets
Members of the Texas Legislative Council, meeting in a 2-day session here, have given top priority to studies on six different and unrelated subjects.

Four of them were asked by the recent Legislature. They include:

1. Protection of livestock from disastrous disease and the control of such diseases; methods of financing control; means of paying livestock owners for losses incurred under control and eradication measures.
2. Comparison study of game and fish laws of other states and their conservation programs.
3. Study of proposals for re-organization of court system.
4. Inventory of public lands.

Other matters set for study included general recodification of Texas laws, last done in 1925, laws relating to annexations by cities; and a study of codification of the juvenile delinquency laws.

Director John D. Mosely was given authority to move the commission headquarters from the Capitol to 105 West 14th Street.

Laughlin Trial Date Set
Testimony will be heard here, beginning August 17, in removal proceedings against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown, commissioner for the state supreme court in the case, set the date.

After the testimony is received, the record will go to the supreme court for decision as to whether Judge Laughlin shall be ousted from his office.

Ouster proceedings against the Judge Laughlin were brought by 11 South Texas lawyers, who charge that irregularities have occurred in the judicial district which is politically dominated by George Parr.

Federal drought relief legislation, passed by Congress, provides $30 million for economic disaster loans, $60 million for special livestock loans, $40 million to subsidize shipments of feed and seed to disaster areas, and $10 million for production and subsistence loans under the Farmers Home Administration.

Farmers and ranchers, not only in Texas, but also in other parts of the Southwest, will be eligible for assistance under the program.

Prior to the passage of this bill, $16 million already was available for drought relief from Agriculture Department funds.

Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of Texas A & M said the school's board of directors will determine how the institution will participate in a hay and feed distribution program.

Attorney General John Ben Sheppard had ruled that the college has full legal authority to furnish hay and feed to drought areas.

William L. McGill, state defense and disaster relief co-ordinator announced that the college would be asked to set up a revolving fund to administer volume purchases and distribution of hay.

Most of the relief livestock feed will have to come from other states, in the opinion of Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who completed an inventory showing that only about 10 per cent of the needed amount is available in Texas.

McGill said the state disaster committee was awaiting word from Southwestern railroads as to whether they would grant a 50 per cent freight reduction on shipment of livestock from drought areas to pastures elsewhere. Granted by the rails were half rates on shipment of feed into the parched areas.

Cattlemen will get help from state banks, said State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner.

Falkner reported to Governor Shivers that he had talked with most of the state bankers in the drought disaster area, and "It is their thought that where they are financing cattlemen who have a home and are not hopelessly in debt, they are willing to ride out the depression with them."

Help will be coming for the dairymen as well as farmers and ranchmen, Secretary Benson said in response to a telegram from C. O. Norton, representing the North Texas Milk Producers Association.

Benson stated: "It always has been the intent of the instructions by the Department of Agriculture regarding delivery of feed that dairy men should be included on the same basis as beef cattlemen."

SHORT SNORTS. The shortage of teachers is so acute that many schools may be forced into half-day schedules next fall, predicts the Texas State Teachers Association. Under new laws passed by the last Legislature, you must have your car inspected between September 15, 1953 and April 15, 1954.

Heaven and earth shall pass away; but My words shall not pass away.—(St. Luke 21: 33.)

In these anxious days, when the threat of the man-made destruction of whole cities, whole populations, haunts our lives, our only sure solace is to turn to the immortal words of Christ Jesus—for therein is our only hope of salvation, of peace within our troubled souls.

Jack Caves To Be High School Head

By E. H. Whittington

NATALIA—Jack Caves has accepted a position as high school principal at Natalia and will report for duty the last week in August, according to J. N. Kaderli, superintendent of schools here.

Mr. Caves is now in the University of Texas working towards his doctor's degree and will lack only two courses completing this work this summer. He holds a bachelor degree from Baptist College at Marshall, Texas, a master's degree from North Texas State Teachers College of Denton. His college major for all degrees has been in the field of education and psychology. He has a four year high school certificate, the administrators certificate and a special counselors certificate.

Mr. Caves served four years in the ordinance department of the U. S. Marines during World War II, with service in the South Pacific Theatre.

His teaching experience includes 2 years at Farwell, Texas, and two years as principal and teacher at Alto Loma High, in Alta Loma, Texas from whence he comes to Natalia.

Mr. Caves has a wife and two children. They have rented the Clyde Day place on Pearson Ave., and will be home at that address after August 30th.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees for the Natalia Independent Schools it was decided to open school on August 31, according to Ray Keith member of the board.

School buses will make their regular runs on this date, and teachers will issue text books and make their assignments. All registrations will be completed if possible first day. The school lunch room will be open Tuesday.

This is the final week of registration for the Vacation Bible School to be held August 17-28, at the Community Presbyterian Church.

NEWS FROM YANCEY

Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Dubberly and Sammie are spending the week on their place near Yancey.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

MISS DARLENE BRUCKS is here from SA "just loafing" for a couple of weeks during her vacation. DARLENE, who is employed by the Jefferson Methodist Church, has recently helped arrange equipment and move into a new education building which has "just about everything." Kid does should love attending Sunday School in a plant like that.

And speaking of Sunday School reminds us of the cute MOSS twins. MRS. SAM MOSS has been taking daughters, LAURA and LINDA to Sunday School every Sunday for almost a year and just this week for the first time, did not stay with them for the hour session. Approaching three years of age, the little girls are "growing up" now.

Independent little KIRK TILLEY, youngest of the JOY TILLEY JR. family, has been going to his Sunday School class by himself since before he was two, and taking part in all the activities just like the older youngsters.

Ten year old CLAUDETTE SAATHOFF of SA came out to visit her aunt, MRS. BRUNO SCHWEERS and announced that she was tired of life in the city and had come out to spend a month. She'll be here until school starts.

MRS. BETTY HOLLOWAY, who is financial chairman of the Hondo B&PW Club this year, says that she has been having nightmares lately about souvenir Hondo ash trays hanging on stretchable indoor clotheslines. Ash trays and clothes lines are being sold by the organization as a part of their fund-raising project to get water piped out to the cemetery.

Gregory William Lewis is the name given the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis, born on August 8th, here in Hondo.

This makes two boys for the popular young band director and his wife.

YOU CAN BUY IT IN HONDO!

dear miss shopper:

How does your dollar spend?

Like many others it probably spends pretty quickly, especially when there are few to keep it company these days. Like all housewives you are looking for the best merchandise at the most reasonable price. In addition to these basic requirements you appreciate courteous, friendly service.

It all adds up to shopping at home. No merchants, anywhere, can offer you any better variety, quality, or lower prices than can be found in Hondo.

Some argue, "But look at the 'specials' in Big Town." Yes, they are specials, but how special are they when you take into consideration car expenses, the time and tempers lost in finding parking space and biggest of all the lost of your dollar to your home town, your neighbors who you have known for years and have no doubts as to their sincerity. Shop where your business is appreciated. Shop in Hondo and save.

IF YOU'VE BEEN GOING OUT OF TOWN TO SHOP I'VE GOT NEWS FOR YOU

I'm new in town and don't know many people or merchants, but I do know the value of shopping at home. Say I spend $5.00 for gas at the filling station. The service station owner in turn spends the same $5.00 at the corner store. The storekeeper buys $5.00 worth of fresh eggs that were produced on Farmer Brown's place. The money has changed hands four times, but still it's in the county not adding to the profits of some big chain store in the city. Keeping our dollars at home means making our community a better place to live. It means town pride. It means we are interested in investing in the future of our community.

I've found it in Hondo, you can too.

The Medina county commissioner's court met last week with state highway district engineer, F. M. Davis, and discussed farm to market roads to be recommended during the next year of activity.

Mr. Davis recommended that they decide the priority of secondary roads needed, and said that the state highway department would be guided by their recommendations.

The commissioners recommended the following roads for consideration:

1. From the junction of highways 173 and 90 north to the Bandera county line.
2. From Farm to Market road 471 at Cliff west to Redwing.
3. From FM 471 1/2 mile north of FM 463 to junction east.
4. From Yancey to Frio county line on the Moore road.

Kelly Construction Company was awarded the contract to top 3/4 mile on the Black Creek road and the same distance on the cemetery road in precinct 4. Low bid was 17c per square yard.

High School Grads Now Eligible For Flying Training

For the first time since World War II, high school graduates now are eligible to apply for Air Force flying training directly from civilian life.

United States Air Force Headquarters, Washington, D. C. recently announced that a college education was no longer an entrance requirement for the aviation cadet Aircraft Observer Program.

Any young man who is between the ages of 19 and 26, single, a high school graduate, and in good physical and mental health can now apply for Aircraft Observer training. Applicants may have 20-50 vision if corrected to 20-20 with glasses.

An applicant is under no obligation if he takes the qualifying tests. He does not enter the Air Force until he is found fully qualified for Observer Training and actually desires to enter the program.

The Aircraft Observer is schooled in navigation, bombardment, radar operation or aircraft performance engineering, and upon completing training becomes a crew member of bombardment, transport, reconnaissance or interceptor type aircraft.

His cadet training is divided into three phases—pre-flight, primary and basic.

The 3 month pre-flight course consists of intensive officer training. Upon successful completion of pre-flight, Aircraft Observer cadets receive 30 weeks of primary training that covers the fundamental skills and techniques common to all Aircraft Observer duties. After completing the primary phase, the Aircraft Observer cadet attends one of several basic courses that trains him for a specific position such as a navigator, bombardier, radar observer, or aircraft performance engineer.

Persons entering this program from civilian life who have previously completed selective service requirements are eligible for immediate release from service if they should fail to complete their training for any reason.

The Aviation Cadet in Aircraft Observer training receives a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve approximately 14 months after he enters training. Local high school graduates interested in Aircraft Observer training are advised to contact the Aviation Cadet Selection team No. 203, at Lackland AFB, near San Antonio.

Medina County rated tops in every class of C type Angora goats which they showed in the 34th annual show and sale at Fredericksburg August 6, 7 and 8. This was the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association affair. While Medina county raisers did not enter all the events, they topped those which they did enter, bringing home a majority of the blue ribbons.

(D'Hanis Water)

Tom E. Powell was the next speaker with his clarification of points regarding the bonds. The proposed bond issue is for $125,000, which amount is in excess of the $92,000 estimated cost of the water project, with a final retirement period of 30 years. This period may be shortened, however, according to the speaker, for as the town will most probably grow after a good water supply becomes available, they may be retired before the thirty-year deadline.

Both speakers, as well as the directors, answered questions from the floor.

Another important factor of a public water supply system, and one not emphasized in the meeting is that dealing with the question of health and sanitation.

Records kept by the County Health Department indicate that water samples from D'Hanis wells have consistently shown the presence of harmful bacteria, according to Bill B. Nichols, Sanitarian for the Medina County health unit. "Safe water is protected water," says Nichols. "Pure water available for drinking purposes very seldom occurs in nature. Falling in the form of rain and snow, water is soon contaminated by dust, insects, animals, and man. Some of the organisms introduced by these means into the water may transmit disease."

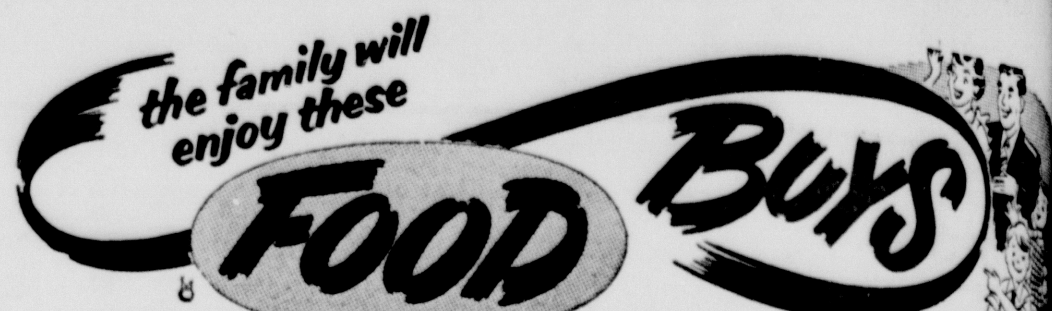

In order to free ourselves from the dread of typhoid fever, dysentery, and other water-borne diseases, we may provide certain safeguards. We should not judge the safety of water by its appearance alone, for water that is clear and sparkling may be highly unsafe.

Protection is simplified by a public water system with an automatic chlorinator such as has been proposed for the D'Hanis district, where periodic check-ups on one source will ensure a sanitary water supply for a whole community.

Bears Win 12-10 At S. A. Sunday

The Hondo Bears won a loose game Sunday from Rene's Young Wonders, 12 to 10 at the latter's diamond. Both teams committed a lot of errors. The Bears gathered 11 hits to 7 for the San Antonians. Pilo Ramirez was credited with the win.

IS LIVING . . .

Sometimes the thinking person may be in a quandary when he compares present day living with that we read of many years ago. Of course none of us would care to do without electric lights and sanitary plumbing and hot water at home, and most of us look on the automobile and the conveniences rather than luxuries.

But consider a moment: Here we are living under high pressure; too many of our young men are dropping off their hearts brought on by the struggle for money advancement. Looks as if we are on a rapidly whirling go-round which spins faster and faster and gets us except to the unenviable stopping point of physical exhaustion and moral unrest.

Then too, so many people are living frustrated lives, because they can't keep up the pace, or they are filled with the poison of envy; others maimed with an inferiority complex, let their tears of self-pity corrode the oil of happy, free living. Would all these things happen under the agriculture economy we once knew?

There was a time for leisure living. There was a happiness about life that is unknown today. People used to have been better adjusted to their fellows, and there was a harmony unknown in the present bickering. There were wars and rumors of war, but sometimes there was peace, and when there has been peace in this world of strikes and police actions and sabotage communists?

Can we blame the inventions which have outstripped ability to cope with them for the frantic way of modern life? Is the fault with the inability of the individual to find the harmony and placid ways of a by-gone era? Or do we better take more time in acquiring poise and gentleness of spirit rather than concentrating time on things and isms and power.

It is well to have comforts and luxuries, but peace of mind and harmony are better. Let us first stabilize the mind, and then again, a merry heart goes all the day and sad one tires before the day has well begun.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. William E. Berger
Hondo Anvil Herald
Hondo, Texas
Dear Bill:

I would like to take this opportunity to express the admiration of this Corporation for the recently published edition of your paper which was devoted to the progress and personalities of Texas Aviation Industries, Incorporated. It was indeed a very well prepared edition of which we were very proud.

It is gratifying, too, to see the part that Texas Aviation Industries has performed in augmenting the local industrial payroll and development of the community by bringing additional citizens to Hondo and Medina County. Although we are only a segment of the community which was already settled before the reactivation of the field, we are anxious to be considered a part of it and are grateful for the friendliness exhibited to our people.

May I again express our appreciation to you and all members of your staff for an excellent job accomplished, and I wish to convey, not only the appreciation of the Corporation, but also the appreciation of all employees of the organization.

Yours very truly,
J. D. CAPE
Executive Vice President

PHILOSOPHER HAS NEW

Idea For Helping Washington Meet Its Obligations Without New Taxes

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has had some impossible ideas in his time, but this one must top the list.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday afternoon sitting in the shade worrying about the national debt. I find it's a whole lot more restful to worry about the national debt than the private debt, impersonal think is a lot more effective and trouble-free than personal thinking. I know lots of men who can come closer to settling Washington's financial difficulties than they can their own, and along about sundown I noticed a cow sniffing at something in the weeds and when I got up to go home I walked over there and discovered it was a newspaper and I picked it up and put it in my pocket and after supper I read where some emissary from Washington was just back from South America and he reported what that country needs is some cash from this country.

"If South America could manage a little financing from the United States, it'd be a big help in fighting Communism and building a stronger country," the representative said.

"I've been thinking. Now South America ain't the only country which could use a little cash. As I understand it, the United States could, too. I notice that President Eisenhower is struggling with the problem of balancing the budget and has already found out we've promised to spend more money in the next few months than we got comin in and a special session of Congress may be necessary to raise the debt limit so we can borrow a little just to meet our current obligations, until some new sources of revenue can be found or the expenses can be cut.

I know this may sound revolutionary and in some countries even inhumane, but what I'd like to know is why don't we try borrowin some money from a foreign country ourself?

We've had every kind of representative imaginable goin abroad to see which country needs to borrow from us, and now that we're a little hard up for some ready cash ourselves, why don't we send out a borrowin mission of our own?

Or, to save a little money, why couldn't we just wire the fellows we already got abroad to stop lending and start borrowin?

I know it would spread consternation abroad quicker than the news we'd discovered how to mass produce atom bombs at two-bits apiece and were gonna make practice drops clear around the world just to see what happens, or it might be like you announce your paper was gonna publish a list of all the past-due accounts owed all the stores in Hondo next week, but in desperate times desperate actions sometimes are called for.

If you think this borrowin mission has any merit, let me know, and if Washington can't find anybody trained in borrowin to send abroad, I'll go. I've had considerably more experience borrowin than I have lendin.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

PLENTY OF WATER FOR TEXAS -- CONSERVATION GREAT NEED

By Lyndon B. Johnson
U. S. Senator

Drought or no drought, Texas has—potentially—plenty of water. Over the long pull, we would have more than enough water to meet all our needs—if we had a system of distributing it to the places where it could be used most profitably.

When I entered the Senate in 1949, I had back of me some experience with water development on the Colorado River. I knew a little something of the water needs of Texas. I knew something of the benefits that result from solution of water problems. I felt a long-range program of water conservation and use was one of our State's fundamental needs.

Appraisal of Problem

One of the first things I did as a Senator was to ask the Department of the Interior to have its Bureau of Reclamation make an appraisal of the Texas water problem.

A report of the Bureau's study shows Texas is using only a relatively small fraction of its potential water resources. That is true despite the fact that we are using water in Texas at a rate two and one-half times as great as our rate of use in 1940.

Believe it or not, water used in Texas amounts to only about 15 per cent of the yearly discharge of streams that border or originate in the State. The remaining 85 per cent makes its way into the Gulf and is lost to Texas.

Texas Drainage Systems

Texas has 15 major drainage basins. They may be divided into three groups: (1) those belonging to the Mississippi River system, including the Canadian and Red Rivers; (2) those rising in Texas and flowing into the Gulf; (3) the Rio Grande and its tributaries.

Texas has within its boundaries more streams of appreciable size than any other State. Texas has wholly within its boundaries a greater part of the streams that touch its surface than any other State.

That is where our surface water comes from. It is more than enough to meet all our foreseeable needs—if we will conserve it for our use.

For some years I have been telling everyone who would listen that water is more important to Texas than oil. We will be needing and using water long after our available petroleum resources have been exhausted.

All Texans Affected

The water problem directly and personally affects every Texan.

It affects the mother with a thirsty child—and the rancher with thousands of head of thirsty cattle. It affects the man who wants to wash his car on a Saturday afternoon—and the chemical industry on the Gulf Coast using perhaps 100 million gallons of water per day.

Above everything else, we must have water—plenty of water where it is most needed and when it is most needed.

Coordinated Program Needed

Up to now, there has been no coordinated Federal-State water conservation program. We need one—badly. In fact, we must have one if we hope really to solve our water problem.

The Bureau of Reclamation report suggests such a program. This appraisal may not hold all the answers, but it does at least give a basis for action.

It opens a path that can lead to a permanent solution of the recurring problem of water shortage in Texas. That is a path which we in Texas—for the sake of our own future—must follow.

WHEAT MARKETING QUOTA REFERENDUM

V. P. King announced that August 14, 1953, is the date set for holding the 1953 Wheat Marketing Quota referendum and that the county wide polling place will be in the hallway of the second floor of the Hondo National Bank Building.

In this referendum wheat farmers will make a very important decision:

If more than two thirds of the eligible wheat farmers vote in favor of marketing quotas, marketing quotas will be in effect for all farms planting more than 10 acres of wheat, penalties will apply on any wheat produced in excess of the farms allotment, and price support at 90 percent of parity will be available for those who stay within their acre allotment.

On the other hand, if marketing quotas are not approved by a two thirds vote, there will be no marketing quotas, with their penalty controls, acreage allotments, however, will continue in effect, but price supports will drop to 50 percent of parity for cooperators. For non-cooperators that is anyone who exceeds his acreage allotment, will not be entitled to price support, even at the 50 percent level.

Mr. King also states that any producer who is engaged in the production of wheat for harvest as grain on a farm on which the acreage to be planted to wheat for harvest in 1954 is in excess of 15 acres, and who is entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1954 wheat crop as owner, landlord, tenant or sharecropper shall be eligible to vote.

SOME RANDOM THOUGHTS

ON PEOPLE AND THINGS

AS HE VIEWS THE

PASSING SCENE

PAYING HIS RESPECTS TO UNITED NATIONS

David Lawrence thinks, according to a copyrighted article, that the most important issue ahead of the American people for the immediate future is "whether the United States is to remain a member of the United Nations—and if so under what conditions." We submit that it is passing strange, considering the historic background of the principles upon which the founding fathers established this government and by adherence to which our country has achieved its greatness, that we ever permitted our politicians to inveigle us into such an entanglement in the first place. It would seem that the manner in which the partners in the Union have used it as a means to "bleed" our country on every possible pretence of "relief" should be enough to convince every one that we are being played for a sucker and that we should wash our hands of the United Nations and all its works.

If violence to time-honored American principles are not deemed sufficient grounds for severing all ties with the United Nations, the behavior which it has permitted on the part of some of its members in the "police action" in Korea should furnish ample material and practical reasons. In that lamentable disaster, into which we were involved under the plea that we were merely doing our part as a member of the "alliance" to which we belonged, the United Nations, our country furnished 95 per cent of the fighting forces and the war material, at a cost of $15 billion and 140,000 casualties, while all our allies together furnished only 5 per cent. The majority of them do not seem to have participated at all. But worst of all, we were not at war with North Korea alone. We were at war with Red China—a supplicant for membership in the United Nations—who sent her thousands of professional guerrilla warriors to fight us—and with Red Russia, a fellow member with us in the United Nations, who furnished both the Chinese and Koreans with all of their implements and ammunition with which to fight us. At the same time, our pretentious allies—even though with token forces in the field—England, France and perhaps others, carried on their regular commercial trade with both Russia and China. And now, as a condition of the cessation of the fighting, we are expected to welcome Red China into full membership on equal terms with us in the United Nations. Could any sensible people expect harmonious co-operation from such a bunch of proven traitors?

Aside from the proven unreliability of our associates and would-be associates in the United Nations, Mr. Lawrence warns that "There are some influences at work in America (even among high government officials—D.) and other countries to subtract more from the sovereignty and independence of every member with his grandparents, M&M A. G. Hollaway.

M&M N. C. Johnson and Jamie and M&M Bill Jaegli and Debbie spent the weekend at Medina Lake.

Tommy and Billy Tompkins of Bay City are here visiting their grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Knopp. They recently returned from a trip with their mother, Mrs. Charles Collins, to Ohio where they visited the John J. Braham family.

Sara Echart of Commerce has been here for a two weeks' visit with her brother-in-law and sister, M&M Bob Nations. Mrs. Nation's parents, M&M T. V. Echart, of Commerce, arrived last Wednesday for a week's visit in Hondo.

country by a delegation of more power to the international body"; in other words, make it a united world government exercising sovereignty over the member countries all over the world somewhat after the manner that our Federal government, under its constitution, controls the states. Weak as is the authority of the present organization, it exercised such power over the fighting in Korea to the extent that more than one of our generals in command there were stopped by its orders from advancing when a continued advance would have crushed the enemy and achieved victory whereas we have now a meaningless stalemate truce the ultimate outcome of which none can foresee but every one dreads. Does not our security rest rather in withdrawing the authority we have already misplaced into the United Nations' hands than in surrendering more of our sovereign authority into the hands of a bunch of "furreners"?

Whether or not the United Nations is made over into—what some consider it already to be—a world government with specific authority surrendered to it by the member nations or continues as at present, loosely set up and functioning without much rhyme or reason as the whim or selfish interests—such as selling supplies ala England, France, et al, or guns and bullets and powder ala Russia—of the bunch that has the power for the time being to get by with it, the fact will remain that the organization is still, though on a gigantic scale never dreamed of by them, just what the founding fathers warned against—an "entangling alliance" and one by its very nature destined to become more dangerous as it grows bigger and more entangled. America should have no further part in it!

But Mr. Lawrence in an article which you should not fail to read, after exposing the weaknesses and the inherent dangers in the United Nations in the usual clear and concise manner in which he discusses all subjects, unlike this writer, is too modest to tell the people what they should do but closes his article with this clear but modest observation: "Apparently the U. N. is a kind of organization which, when it once passes a resolution, has no mechanism to see that it is executed. It seems to overlook faithfulness and disregard of charter obligations—such as the trade carried on with the enemy or the arming of the aggressor by Soviet Russia. Where is there any authority in the U. N. to discipline such treasonable acts? There are lots of unanswered questions which the American people will want to know more about before deciding whether to help reorganize the U. N. or to withdraw from it."

Un-American in conception, undemocratic in principle and unworkable in practice, America should have no more affiliation with the United Nations.

Harvesting a Better America

Rubbed my eyes yesterday when I saw Hap Jackson's truck in Biff Morgan's alfalfa field... helping Biff get in his cutting.

Since they've been carrying on a friendly argument for years (over how much fertilizer to use per acre of alfalfa), I had to ask Hap what was going on.

"Got my own crop in safely last week," he says. "And since Biff's boy is at the summer encampment of the National Guard, I figured the least I could do was to help him out. After all," Hap went on, "there's no argument over how important the National Guard is to all of us."

From where I sit, a fellow me, who's too old to get a jury duty, and respect rights. Even a little thing like respecting a neighbor's right have, say, beer or butter, dinner is important if we want to keep America strong. We have to be on "guard" in more ways than one these days!

In every way, more car for your money!

Ford gives you V-8 power like that of costly cars... fine car build... fine car ride and "at-home-everywhere" good looks - but the price tag never moves out of the low-price field.

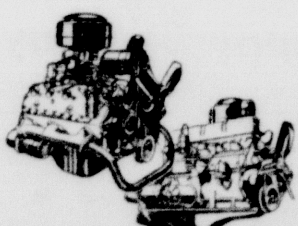

Everywhere you go people are making the swing to Ford. And can you blame them? Many cars costing over $1000 more offer no more of the things you need and want. Here are some of Ford's "Worth More" features... but to get the full Ford "Worth More" story, Test Drive a new Ford today!

Less front-end road shock. The kind of shock you feel most is reduced up to 80% with Ford's new ride. You get a smoother, more balanced, more comfortable ride all around!

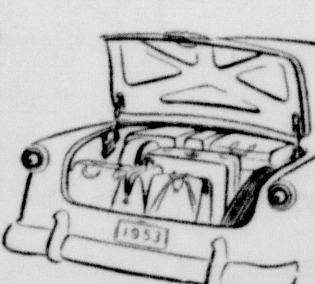

Suspended pedals are designed to make easier and make foot space of your Ford's entire floor area. Suspended pedals also a "keep out" sign to dirt and debris... make it easier to keep the floor clean!

Smooth V-8 power is exclusive to Ford in its field. And Ford's Mileage Maker is the most modern Six you can own! Both the V-8 and Six-cylinder power plants deliver their hill-leveling "go" on regular gas—and not much of that, thanks to Ford's Automatic Power Pilot!

An extra suitcase will fit into Ford's luggage compartment—the roomiest in the low-price field. In fact, Ford's combined luggage and passenger space is the greatest in the low-price field... compares with that of many cars of higher price.

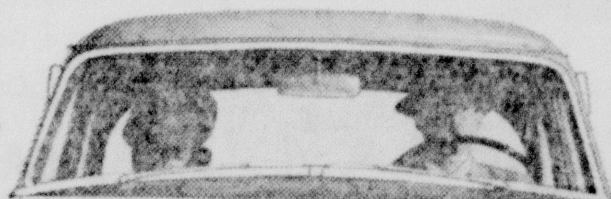

Center-Fill Fueling permits filling your Ford from either side... saves you time when refueling... and puts an end to hose scratches on your fender!

Hondo Instructor Has Varied Experience

ED BILLINGS
STORY IS ONE
FOR THE BOOK

By W. C. Childs

Ed Billings, 25-year veteran of commercial aviation, is the most experienced pilot at Hondo Air Base with a career which covers flying for hire longer than some of the students at the field have been alive.

It was away back in 1927, at old Richards Field at Kansas City, Missouri, that Ed first soloed, in an O-X Standard. He took instruction on his own after an unsuccessful attempt to enlist in the then-Signal Corps now Air Force, and after learning to fly with Commercial Airways, went to work for them. In those days, in order to fly for hire, a pilot could hold a limited commercial license which restricted him to a fixed base. This was the next highest pilot rating at that time, surpassed only by a transport pilot's license. In order to qualify for it, a man had to be able to land an airplane within 500 feet of a designated spot three times out of five and have at least 50 hours of flying time.

Disregarding the regulation about flying only from one field, Ed went into barnstorming work, making every county fair in Kansas, Missouri, and Arkansas, using either an O-X American Eagle, and O-X Eagle Rock or an O-X Swallow.

After two years of this, on December 12, 1929, Ed got his transport license. This required at least 200 hours and 10 hours of cross-country flying. With the license in his pocket, he went to work for the old National Air Transport company, flying a Curtis Carrier Pigeon between Kansas City and Chicago. The Carrier Pigeon was originally designed as an observation plane for the Air Corps, but for carrying mail, the pilot put a lid over the front cockpit and strapped it down.

After working for Yellow Cab Air Transport between Kansas City and Minneapolis - St. Paul, Ed got a job flying for Northwest Airways. Speed Holman, one of the all-time greats of aviation, was then traffic manager for Northwest, and Ed got his job by duplicating one of Holman's favorite airshow tricks.

It was at Brainerd, Minnesota, and Speed Holman was to come in and do some low-altitude acrobatics in his clipped-wing Waco. The welcoming committee was out waiting for him to arrive. They saw this airplane come over the field, roll over inverted and fly around the field inverted. Then the airplane rolled right side up, landed, and Speed Holman stepped out. Just as the party was about to drive off, another airplane came over the field, rolled over and flew around the field inverted. The plane was coming in to land when one of the committee suggested they leave, but Holman insisted he had to meet the man who could duplicate his trick. So Holman and Billings met, and Ed was talked into going to work for Northwest.

Ed also remembers Brainerd for another reason—for it was there he had his only major accident in some 10,500 hours of flying time. He was flying his clipped-wing Monocoupe (the same one in which he had impressed Speed Holman previously) and was again flying over the field inverted. As he applied pressure to the stick to roll the wings level, a cable on the aileron broke. The aircraft crashed, still inverted, and was flipped over right side up in the crash. The force of the crash tore the rear (See Instructor, Page 7)

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel
Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around
You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas
That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops
An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

BE SURE OF:
Complete WINTER COMFORT IN YOUR HOME WITH . . .

AUTOMATIC GAS HEATING
PROPERLY PLANNED AND INSTALLED!

Don't go through another winter without automatic gas heating for your entire home. Plan now to enjoy this low-cost luxury which will mean the very finest in real, solid comfort and convenience for you and your family.

BUT . . . there's one important thing to remember about automatic gas heating . . . whether it is being added to your present home, or is installed in the new home you build or buy . . . IT TAKES MORE THAN GOOD EQUIPMENT TO PROVIDE THE QUALITY OF SERVICE, AND STANDARDS OF EFFICIENCY, YOU WANT AND SHOULD HAVE IN YOUR HOME. THE BIG THING IS . . . MAKE SURE YOUR HEATING IS CORRECTLY PLANNED AND INSTALLED!

The way in which the heating has been planned and installed can . . . and usually does . . . represent the difference between highly satisfactory performance, and inferior results. How can you be sure of the right kind of heating installation? These simple rules will help.

- ★ Don't buy on price alone.
- ★ Ask for details of installation plans.
- ★ Be sure provision is made for heating the entire home.
- ★ Have an understanding as to dealer's servicing obligations.
- ★ If buying a new home, assure yourself that the heating installation meets highest standards.

And most important, deal with a reliable heating dealer whose interest is more than merely selling a piece of equipment.

Those interested in obtaining more detailed information about proper heating may get a helpful booklet, "Complete Winter Comfort," free of charge at their United Gas office, or from almost any heating dealer.

Camp Fire Girls And Blue Birds
Enjoy Train Ride And Visit In SA

By Ruth Curry Lawler

CASTROVILLE — Mrs. J. D. Williamson, leader of the Happy Blue Birds, arranged an outing last Wednesday for the Camp Fire Girls and the Blue Birds of Castroville which included a train ride to SA from LaCoste, a visit to the Circus Exhibit at the SA Main Library, and a picnic and visit to the Zoo at Breckenridge Park. The return trip was made in the Castroville School Bus driven by Lou Redus. Mesdames Norma Green, Bernice Ehlinger, Ernest Adams, and Lewis Adams and Dwight Green were also members of the group.

The Medina Valley Planing Mill and Lumber Company has recently been purchased by the Gardner Brothers, who will operate the mill as a partnership, with Arthur L. Gardner, the active member of the firm and manager. His brother, Major Wm. H. Gardner, is now stationed at Wright Patterson Air Base in Ohio, but was in Castroville when the business was purchased from Leo Yena, the former owner. M&M W. A. Gardner, parents of the Gardners, have rented the Naegelin cottage on Florella Street and spend their weekends in Castroville to escape from the higher temperatures in SA. Mr. Gardner Sr. says that he has noticed the friendliness of the people in Castroville; everyone seems to have time to greet you and make you feel at home, and he is looking forward to living here.

Miss C. Genevieve Lawler and Miss Mary Ruth Lionberger left for Mexico City Monday afternoon for a three-week visit. They plan to spend a short time at Cuernavaca and the Indian Village of Tapotlan which is about 14 miles from Cuernavaca.

Mrs. A. A. Murrell has been in Houston the past week visiting Mr. Murrell who is a patient at the Veterans Hospital there.

The Castro Garden Club is waiting for the "big rain" before setting out the 75 plumbago bushes recently purchased. Holes have been dug, several members getting their husbands interested in the project, were able to turn this hard job over to them. At the last work-out Mrs. E. J. Conrad and Mrs. Floyd Haby served punch and cake to the members and helpers.

Charles Suehs Jr., elected general chairman of the annual Festival and Homecoming of St. Louis Parish, announced this week that Dan Keller of Rio Medina will serve with him as co-chairman.

seat, in which Ed was flying, loose and shoved it down into the tail section. The crowd, not seeing the pilot, started dragging the lake for his body, and only the curiosity of a souvenir-hunter was responsible for their finding him. When the souvenir-hunter started to tear a piece of the fabric covering the tail section loose, he found Ed rolled up in a little ball in the fuselage. Ed was unconscious for three days, but is still proud of the fact that he was not responsible for this accident. And on the score of safety, Ed's squadron, E-1, has not had an accident of any sort for nearly a year.

Ed's most memorable period is the period he spent in Canada flying for Western Canada Airways as a bush pilot. With temperatures ranging as low as 57 degrees below zero, it was these pilots' job to take supplies, gold, passengers or messages from Winnipeg to Brandon, Manitoba to La Pas. La Pas means the step, and Ed says it literally was the last step of civilization until you got on up to Churchill and Hudson Bay.

One night returning back from a run up to Sioux Lookout, Ed was caught in a blizzard. As he was scanning the ground below him, he saw a gleam of light. Wheeling the airplane around and landing as quickly as possible, he started taxiing. After taxiing for what seemed like ten miles, he came to a cabin occupied by a Mounted Policeman. The Mountie had the Indians of the neighborhood build a small igloo around the nose of the airplane and light a fire in it. Ed drained the oil from the engine and took it inside the cabin. After it had got light enough to see the next morning, he heated the oil almost to boiling and poured it into his still-warm engine and was thus able to start the engine. The Indians had kept the fire going all night.

In 1931, Ed came to Texas. He worked in various spots around the state, dusting, instructing and doing whatever a pilot could to make a dollar in those lean days. Then he landed a job with a hotel chain as executive pilot. This lasted until 1933, when things really got tough all over here.

With no prospects in sight in aviation, Ed decided it was time to learn something new. Since he had never been able to afford a course in celestial navigation in a school, he figured the next best thing to do would be to go where they practiced this navigation. So he went to sea.

After several trips and time enough to learn the art of navigating by the stars, Ed came back to Texas and resumed crop dusting. He kept this up until 1938 when he took a job with Hangar VI in San Antonio. He worked with them in San Antonio until the war, when he moved over to Uvalde as a primary instructor at the contract school at Garner Field.

Following the war, Ed returned to San Antonio where he opened his own operation at Bexar County Airport. He was vice-president of Western Aero Supply in San Antonio for a time until he accepted a position with Aviation Services in San Antonio operating a flying school. He remained with this organization until 1951, when he came to Hondo.

Ed now has an unlimited examiners rating from the CAA, as well as his commercial and instructor's rating in both single and multi-engine land aircraft and single-engine sea planes. His CAA certificate is No. 3450—and there are approximately 1,000 times that many CAA pilots licenses now.

Ed, his wife and son, live on 23rd Circle here in Hondo.

GAME OUTLOOK SEEMS VARIED

AUSTIN—As successful coastal fishing continues to highlight outdoor activities reports from the wildlife front indicate varied fall harvest prospects, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The outlook for hunting of both mourning and whitewing doves is considered fairly good. At least a part of the big game empire in the Hill Country is described as favorable for deer and turkey chances.

Reports from Canada reflect some concern over the effect of late spring storms on the waterfowl situation. But seems certain that the large population that migrated north presages a good hatch despite occasional setbacks.

One blight still on the wildlife picture concerns the quail, which slumped badly last year. While it is too early yet to get an accurate population check, the Executive Secretary observed that field reports generally are pessimistic because of the prolonged drought.

Family Harmony: Peace and harmony—like charity—begins at home. Family harmony is the foundation of worked harmony and peace. Living together is like singing together. Family members are like members of a choir. A good choir achieves harmony through continued cooperation and practice. Each member of the choir has his own part and, each blends with the others to make real harmony.

Sandwiches in the Home Freezer: Sandwich meals for hot summer days can be easy if you use the home freezer. Storage life for most sandwiches is about three weeks. Wrap them separately in good wrapping material, and pack in containers for protection against crushing. Be sure to label and date the packages.

Want to be nimble, smooth and quick?

TT Dynaflow* does the trick!

WE have just the place for you. If such is your desire. It's at the wheel of a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow. And we suggest you hold on to your hat and your heart when the action starts—for here's what happens: You press the pedal and, from a standing start, you're up to a legal 30 mph before you have time to breathe but twice. Or, you're in the thick of traffic—moving smoothly, easily, quietly. Then, when it's safe to do so, you move instantly into the clear with the greatest of ease—in one progressive build-up of velvet acceleration—without a single gear shifted or a clutch pedal pushed.

That, sir, is the big thrill command you get in any 1953 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow. For this fully automatic drive now has two turbines where one did the trick before. Two turbines for instant getaway response—with whisper quiet—and with infinite smoothness through all ranges. Of course, a lot of able power goes with this smooth, quick getaway—the highest horsepower and compression ratios, Series for Series, in all Buick history. And so does big room. And the supreme comfort of the Buick Million Dollar Ride. And the superb handling ease of finely balanced weight. Even Power Steering* is at hand to make parking and turning still easier. Why not drop in on us soon and sample one of these great new 1953 Buicks with TT Dynaflow? It's an experience—and a value story—too good to miss.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
